MOUNTAINS WILL POLL

Enormous Vote this Fall for Judge O'Rear.

Gerrymander Effected to Retain Hold on Legislature by Machine.

BY L. VANCE ARMENTROUT.

The mountains will speak in November. From the length of the Big Sandy Valley and up and down the hillside stream that contribute their maelstrom to the torrents of the storied Kentucky river come reports that there will be no party division this year in the vote for Governor.

A mountain man is candidate, Judge E. C. O'Rear was born of mountain parentage; he rode the circuit in the foothills of the Alleghenies, while practicing at the Eastern Kentucky bar; he has stumped every county east of the bluegrass and the people love him. History records no such other conventions as those in which delegates to the last State Republican convention were instructed for O'Rear. No other man in public life in Kentucky knows the mountain people as Judge O'Rear does—knows their character, their ambitions and their needs; understands the country, its possibilities and difficulties under which its population labor. No other public man has given to conditions in the mountains the study that he has; and so the people of the mountains are peculiarly interested in the outcome of the present campaign.

WILL GIVE AN IMMENSE MAJORITY.

In every election the mountain counties, according to the last census and a comparison of voting strength to population based on ratio of other sections, have failed by fully 10,000 to get out their vote. Contributing causes are distances and bad roads, and the fact, that, the section being overwhelmingly Republican, it has seldom been necessary to vote the full party strength in congressional and local elections. This year pledges are being voluntarily given, that regardless of whether the voters will be at the poll the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Thirty-three thousand in the Tenth and Eleventh is the prediction. And these mountain people do not make promises rashly. They are rather taciturn and chary of giving their word. One can find more men in one day in the mountains, who look him straight in the eye, than he can find in a city in a month.

HIS TRIP LAST WEEK.

Judge O'Rear addressed close to 6,000 people in the Tenth and Eleventh districts last week, in six counties. He delivered seven addresses and rode seventy-five miles back over the mountains and through the passes cut by the beds of the Kentucky's tributaries. He traced the South Fork of that stream from its origin in a little spring till it joined the middle and north forks and down past the government locks and dams that will make it a navigable stream the year around.

He spoke in Laurel, Clay, Owsley, Breathitt, Lee and Estill counties, from Monday afternoon to Saturday night, when he returned to his home. He will begin a second tour of the First and Second districts today, opening at Murray this afternoon. Benton, Paducah, Kuttawa, Marion, Princeton and Cadiz are his other dates for the week.

Good roads mean more to the mountains and all of Kentucky than people in other sections realize, though western Kentucky needs them almost as badly as the eastern part. There are more than a score of counties in eastern Kentucky, known as pauper counties, the cost of whose courts the State is compelled to pay. Yet, as Judge O'Rear declared, a trip through those counties proves that in the river bottoms there are farms which compare with any in the State, fertile and beautifully situated, that, were there roads over which the products could be hauled to market or the railroad, would make the country prosperous and self-supporting. This, besides the mineral and fuel wealth concealed in the hills and being developed as fast as they can be. This land is much better than that being rapidly settled in the West, the scenery and climate are delightful and the location healthful.

WHAT OTHER STATES DO.

Other States, as Judge O'Rear pointed out, are making similarly hampered sections attractive for settlement, and are finding it a good investment. Judge O'Rear says, the policy proposed in the Democratic State platform of the State contributing to the maintenance of roads in the counties, in proportion as the counties help themselves, is bad political economy. It would repay the State a thousand folds to aid those counties, which needs the aid the most. They can keep up the roads once built, but cannot undertake the initial cost. Moreover, it is unfair, because the piles of central Kentucky were built with State aid, and the mountains should have permanent piles, laid out by competent engineers. The enterprise presents no great difficulties. The grades are all good, the rock is abundant and the drainage easy of disposal.

Closely related to this question of road building to the mountains is that of representation. They are deprived of eighteen representatives, to which they are entitled under the ratio of apportionment prevalent in other sections. In the mountain districts there is six times the voting population found in Western Kentucky districts which are overwhelmingly Democratic. Fully a quarter of a million people are deprived of a direct voice in the Legislature of the State by reason of being crowded into these immense areas of representation. The Constitution expressly provides that the ratio of representation shall be equal, and that if there is any discrimination Judge O'Rear says, it shall be in favor of those districts, which are largest and most sparsely settled because they are capable of greater growth in the next census period. The Court of Appeals has declared the last apportionment unconstitutional for that reason, yet Democratic Legislatures have failed to redistrict, the Democratic platform is silent, and the candidates say nothing about it.

WORK OF THE LOBBY.

Judge O'Rear explains why the lobby operates through the Democratic State machine by the aid of the Prison Commission. These men have employees in every legislative district who see to the nomination of the right men; because the Legislature elects the Prison Commissioners and their jobs depend upon it. The lobby furnishes the campaign funds, and the Prison Commissioners, having named the candidates for the Legislature, can influence them. But occasionally the State goes Republican. If the Legislature goes Republican, the Democratic Prison Commission could not handle it and the lobby would lose. So they had the Legislature gerrymander the State. So that the big Republican counties are crowded into immense districts, entering their voting strength, while the sure Democratic counties are made into small but numerous districts. Thus it is that, although the State went nearly 20,000 Republican four years ago, the Legislature named Democratic, and the hold of the lobby and the Prison Commission on the Legislature was not diminished. How it operated was shown by the defeat of the man nominated by the Democrats for United States Senator by a Democratic Legislature controlled by the lobby.

McDERMOTT EXPOSES IT.

E. J. McDermott, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, with all the best intention in the world to make a point for his party, according to Judge O'Rear, revealed the very seriousness of lobby domination. McDermott said that, although Judge O'Rear might be elected, he could not carry out the expressed will of the people if his policies, because a Democratic Senate would not co-operate with him.

Judge O'Rear declared that proves the fight is just starting. The people must elect Judge O'Rear this year. Then he can recommend this progressive program to the Legislature. If it follows the old scheme of referring bills to packed committees and smothering them, he can call the Legislature back in special session with these matters before it, and thus force a vote. If then the same tactics are pursued to defeat the will of the people, these questions will be sole issues in the legislative election two years hence, with Judge O'Rear as Governor, and a Legislature can then be chosen that will put the policies on the statute books.

ATTEMPTS TO DISCREDIT

Hartford Herald Publishes
Article by "Fair Play."

Read What Mr. Woods' Home
Paper and Christian Minister
Say of Him.

It is nothing but human nature to make every endeavor possible to "get even" with a person when that person at some time or another has, what you think, done you an injustice. In that respect you get one the same level with the one you hate, and are no better than he, and shows your weakness by so doing.

This is remarkable shown in this week's issue of the Hartford Herald when one who signs his name as "Fair Play" makes an attempt to discredit the works of Ex-Mayor C. E. Woods, of Richmond, Ky., in his fight for Judge O'Rear by slurring references to Mr. Woods.

Now it happens that The Republican knows that the gentleman who wrote this article for the Hartford Herald is not interested in the present State Campaign one way or the other, and DOES NOT EVEN VOTE IN KENTUCKY. Why then should he take it upon himself to write a lengthy article endeavoring to discredit Mr. Woods, both politically and morally? It evidently shows that there is something else back of it.

This being the case it is only fitting and proper that our readers should know that Mr. Woods occupies a position at home second to no man who ever served his people in office there, barring his present course in striking out for Judge O'Rear against his home candidate, Mr. McCreary.

WORDS BY CHRISTIAN MINISTER.

The following remarkable tribute was paid to the well known temperance Democratic ex-Mayor Woods, of Richmond, Ky., by the pastor of the Christian church of that city, Rev. E. B. Barnes, and appeared in the Richmond Register March 10, 1911. Under his leadership Richmond has twice gone dry, despite the influence of liquor preachers and other outside influences exerted to return saloons to the city.

"Here is a man with granite in his fiber and battles in his blood. Had he been born a thousand years ago he would have led a Crusade to the Holy Land to rescue the Sepulchre from the hands of the Turks, and would have returned home bronzed by Syrian suns, and laden with honors. Or he would have been one of the stormy, restless souls with the sweep of tempests in his voice, calling for reforms of gigantic wrongs and, if need be, would have walked to the stake and witnessed with his life to the eternal verities that had possessed him. He is in the direct line with prophets and teachers in every age who carry forward the flag of humanity. The heroic beats strongly in his veins.

"He is devoted heart and soul to the cause of civic betterment, and to the removal of prosperous infamies that have buttressed themselves solidly in every community under the towering walls of greed and gain. In our recent local option campaign. He put spurs to the entire community, roused us from our torpor, made the drowsy rub the slumber from their eyes; and the enemy, from the moment of his entrance into the lists knew that for them the hour of doom had struck. He smote their claims with logic unanswerable, with facts that they never dared to dispute, and their cause with scorn as sharp as blades of tempered steel. As surely as the cause of the saloon has devoted itself to the pursuit of gain by grinding the flesh and blood of men, women and children in the pitiless sharpness of its mills, so he has devoted himself to the rescue of humanity, and to the destruction of their great foe—the saloon.

"In the heat of conflict some say he is extreme; but it must be remembered that the enemy is one too well versed in the arts of uncivilized warfare to be met by any except those who stand on high ground, too prosperous to be faced except by those who are beyond the reach of bribes, and too arrogant to be met except by those who are brave enough to defy it, and despise its pretensions. That enemy neither gives nor asks quarter. It must be met on its own ground and on its own terms. Reforms can never be wrought by men whose convictions are in cold storage, or who strive to maintain a dignified neutrality toward organized iniquity, or who attempt to skillfully balance between self-interest and duty the niceties of pro and con. There are always sufficient numbers of safe, sane and conservative, in our popular phrase, to keep the balance true. But such are not likely to carry war into the enemy's camp. They will stand behind the leader like a wall of steel; and the leader is always a man of heroic type.

"Clarence E. Woods fights hard because he has been hit hard; but always fights fair. He never hits below the belt. In the person of those who are near him he has paid revenue to saloon coffers in the coin of his own family, some of whom have gone down under the lethal blows of the monster. The danger signals that he flies are planted deep in tragedy. On the other hand, it must be remembered that every champion of the traffic finds a friend and helper in him as soon as the black flag of piracy is struck. The down and outs and those who put them there are given the glad hand and a place in the ranks with those who are marching upward and onward in the great cause of God, home and native land. A man who puts his money, his time and his life into a cause like this will have no grouse toward the unfortunate, no desire to see them suffer, but is always happy when the occasion comes to lift them to their feet and help them to be men.

"Clarence E. Woods has the respect of every law-abiding citizen of Madison county. THOSE WHO DO NOT LIKE HIM ARE THOSE WHO HAVE SUFFERED HIS DISPLEASURE AS AN ADMINISTER OF THE LAW. He was elected to see that the law of this city were enforced; he did his duty, and every man who does that has the right to pay. He could have come out of office flying blue ribbons, and hearing complimentary addresses from all classes, good and bad alike; but the fact that no strings were on him showed that he was faithful, and that was better than to be enrolled among the famous. He won high praise as Mayor of our city from those who desired to see the laws enforced; and the fact that the lawless are hostile to him is the highest compliment that can be paid him.

"To say that he has his faults is to say that he is human; to say that he has been alive, and that he has done his duty, and shown himself every inch of a man. But his friends are legion, and devoted to him, for the good he has done, for the breadth of his sympathies, for his ideals and for the dauntless spirit that impels him to carry them into execution. Friend and foe alike know that he stands for the best and that all he does is done in the broad, open light of day."

Half Dollar Worth $2,500.

Henderson, Ky., September 28.—Two thousand five hundred dollars is the value of a coin belonging to Louis Hayes, one of the proprietors of the Nickleodeon, according to the report of the American Numismatic association of Chicago, which says there is only one other in existence except the one they have, and offers that amount for the coin. It is a 50-cent piece made in the year 1853, and was taken in by Mr. Hayes as a half dollar in the regular course of business.

It is not the oldness of the coin but the fact that there are only two in existence that makes the value. There are many coins in existence and a number of them in Henderson that are much older.

Mr. Hayes will probably dispose of his coin, as he feels that it is a little too valuable for him to hold, but he doesn't intend to be in any hurry about it, as he rather enjoys the novelty of owning it.

Kentucky's Dog Crop.

The dog crop of Kentucky remains on the average. There were 143,688 dogs reported to State Auditor James in 1911. This report means that after all the sheep that have been killed or died for want of being killed are paid for there remains about $50,000 to go into the public school fund.

WILL START ON OCT. 26

Hartford Post Office to Be Savings Depository.

Official Notice Received last Saturday by Postmaster Heavrin
—Many Cities Without It.

The Republican has been informed by Postmaster Heavrin that he has received official notice from Postmaster General F. H. Hitchcock that Hartford has been selected as a point for a U. S. Postal Savings Bank. It is to be put in operation on October 26, 1911. This is a signal distinction for Hartford, as many good-sized cities are still without postal banks, although clamoring for them. Hartford was thus early granted a postal bank, because the U. S. Government recognized it as being one of the important agriculture and labor centers of the country. All necessary savings cards and stamps will be sent Mr. Heavrin immediately by the Government.

ABOUT THE SAVINGS SYSTEM.

The postal savings system is established for the purpose of providing facilities for depositing savings at interest with the security of the United States government for repayment.

The faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of deposits made in postal savings depository offices with accrued interest as provided by the postal-savings act. Accounts may be opened and deposits made by any person of the age of ten years or over in his or her own name and by a married woman in her own name and free from any interference or control by her husband. No person can have more than one account at any one time.

No person may open a postal-savings account at any postoffice who is not a patron of that office.

All accounts must be opened in person by the depositor or his authorized representative. After opening the account a depositor may forward subsequent deposits to the post-office by mail.

Deposits will be accepted only from individuals, and no account will be opened in the name of any corporation, association, society, firm, or partnership, or in the names of two or more persons jointly.

No account will be opened in the name of one person in trust or on behalf of another person or persons.

The service of the postal savings system is free, and no charge or fee is collected or required in connection with the opening of an account or the withdrawal of money deposited. Postmasters are not permitted to receive savings certificates for safekeeping.

Amounts less than $1 may be saved for deposit by the purchase of 10-cent postal-savings cards and adhesive ten-cent postal-savings stamps. Each postal-savings card contains blank spaces, to which savings stamps may be affixed from time to time as purchased, and a postal-savings card with nine ten-cent savings stamps thus affixed will be accepted as a deposit of $1 either in opening an account or in adding to an existing account.

Savings cards and stamps will be redeemed only by the issue of savings certificates and not valid for postage. They will not be received in exchange for postage stamps, nor will postage stamps be accepted in exchange for postal-savings cards or stamps.

Interest will be allowed on all deposits at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum, computed on each savings certificate separately, and payable annually. No interest will be paid on money which remains on deposit for a fraction of a year only.

Deposits will bear interest from the first day of the month next following that in which deposited.

Interest will continue to accrue on a savings certificate as long as it remains outstanding, certificates being valid until paid, without limitation as to time.

which will bear interest at the regular rate.

A depositor may at any time withdraw the whole or any part of his deposits to his credit with any interest payable by surrendering savings certificates, properly indorsed, for the amount desired.

A depositor will be permitted to exchange the whole or any part of his deposits in sums of $20, $40, $60, $80, $100, or multiples of $100 up to and including $500, into United States registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after one year from date of issue, both principal and interest payable twenty years from such date in United States gold coin. Such exchange may be made under date of January 1 and July 1 of each year, provided such bonds are then available.

Family Reunion.

A family reunion was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pate, of Beaver Dam, on Sunday, September 14. This was the first time that all of their children had assembled at the home of their parents for many years, and every member of the family was present, they being Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pate, father and mother, Mr. A. E. Pate, wife and daughter, Martha Carolyn, of Hartford; Dr. A. U. Pate, wife and son; Alva Smith, Russellville, Ky.; L. A. Pate, wife and three children, Lucile, Harry and Roy, Sasser, Ill.; Clarence Ashby, wife and daughter, Virginia Mildred, McHenry, Ky.; E. C. Pate and wife, Sasser, Ill.

Early Trouble in Married Life.

Some time ago a young married woman of Hartford, whose name we omit, made a curious blunder. She put some eggs on to boil soon after breakfast one morning. They were still on when he came home at dinner time. Upon her husband asking what was in the sauce-pan, she answered: "Eggs for your dinner. They have been on since soon after breakfast. I have tried them with a fork and they are not boiled yet." His astonishment may be better imagined than described. And the mere mention of eggs now brings a rosy blush to her face. Please do not ask us the name of the young lady.

Splendid Record in Hartford.

The big industrial edition of The Hartford Republican is now out before the public and the publishers feel that due credit should be given to Mr. James M. Ross, who did all of the soliciting, writing and collecting for this mammoth edition. We have found him a most experienced person in this line of newspaper work and he has lived up to his contract with this office in every respect. Next week he and his family will leave for another city, where Mr. Ross will get out another edition. They have made many friends since coming to Hartford on July 14, last, who regret their departure.

HOSTESSES AT OUR EMBASSIES

Changes In Diplomatic Appointments May Revolutionize Entertaining In Many Brilliant Foreign Capitals.

THIS government's recent shift in ministers and ambassadors has caused a ripple of interest in highborn circles abroad, for the American embassy or legation in certain countries is looked upon as the center of social activities. The splendid entertaining of the Whitelaw Reids in London, of the Charlemagne Towers in Germany, of the George Von Meyers in Russia and of the Bellamy Storers in Austria and Spain has been such as to increase the prestige of this country in the eyes of foreigners to whom republican simplicity makes no appeal. While men of genius and distinction are useful in some posts, it is undoubtedly true that the rich man with a clever society wife can serve his country more effectively at other courts.

Take the court of Germany, for instance. The Kaiser makes no secret of his love of display and his respect for a spender whose hospitable example may encourage the circulation of foreign dollars in his capital. It is generally suspected that had the David J. Hills been of this class the canny Kaiser would have found them more congenial.

However, this general reassorting may be more to his mind, for it gives to Germany as ambassador John G. A. Leishman, one of the steel trust millionaires, whose wife has been a social leader and brilliant entertainer in Paris as well as in Constantinople and Rome, where her husband has been successively ambassador to Turkey and to Italy. Mr. and Mrs. Leishman are Pittsburghers; but, like most of the steel trust millionaires, their social successes have been gained elsewhere. Mrs. Leishman is a handsome blond woman of much tact and great social ambition. Her husband, who himself cares little for social triumphs, generously gratifies his family's taste for social life, and there is no doubt that their occupancy of the American embassy at Berlin will be a brilliant one.

MRS. LARZ ANDERSON.

Rome when the Leishmans go to Berlin, leaves Tokyo, where her husband and herself have won golden opinions. The O'Briens are from Michigan, where before he entered upon a diplomatic career Mr. O'Brien was a leading lawyer.

The most interesting of the new hostesses abroad, however, is Mrs. Larz Anderson, who is an author and traveler as well as the heiress to the millions of the late William Fletcher Weld of Boston. It was when visiting Mrs. Julia Ward Howe's daughter, Mrs. John Elliot, in Rome, that she first met Mr. Anderson, then an attaché of the American legation. Mrs. Anderson is not only a charming and gifted woman, but an accomplished social leader and will do much to bring prestige to the American legation to Brussels, where they are accredited.

Mrs. Lloyd Bryce, whose husband is the new minister to the Netherlands, is the granddaughter of the famous Peter Cooper and an heiress to some of his millions. Her husband is a man of literary tastes and has written a number of successful novels.

Mrs. John B. Jackson, whose husband has been transferred from Cuba to the Balkans, where Mr. Jackson after leaving the navy was sent on frequent government missions, is a charming Philadelphia woman. Mrs. Arthur Beaupre, whose husband has been ordered from the Netherlands to Cuba, is a handsome and clever woman from the middle west. Like her husband, she is a native of Illinois.

Mrs. Ridgeley Carter, wife of the new minister to Argentina, is well known and popular in London society, where her husband was for some years the very popular secretary of the American embassy.

HONORED THE MONKEY.

Origin of the Coat of Arms of the Earl of Leinster.

Most of the wild animals have a place in heraldry, and many strange and impossible creatures, such as griffins, dragons and unicorns, have been invented as emblems of daring and valor. But the monkey and the donkey have not been so used, except in one instance, where the monkey has been admitted to the ranks of titled nobility. The story of this adoption is told by Mr. Curtis in his book, "One Irish Summer."

On the Leinster coat of arms are three monkeys standing with plain collar and chained; motto, "Crom-a-boo," "To Victory." This is the only coat of arms, I am told, that has ever borne a monkey in the design. It was adopted by John Fitzthomas Fitzgerald in 1316 for romantic reasons.

While this Earl of Leinster was an infant he was in the castle of Woodstock, which is now owned by the Duke of Marlborough. The castle caught fire. In the confusion the child was forgotten, and when the family and servants remembered him and started a search they found the nursery in ruins. But on one of the towers was a gigantic ape, a pet of the family, carefully holding the young earl in his arms. The animal, with extraordinary intelligence, had crawled through the smoke, rescued the baby and carried it to the top of the tower.

When the earl had grown to manhood he discarded the family coat of arms and adopted the monkeys for his crest, and they have been retained to this day. Wherever you find the tomb of a Fitzgerald you will see the monkeys at the feet of the effigy or under the inscription.

Has Millions of Friends.

How would you like to number your friends by millions as Bucken's Arnica Salve does? Its astounding cures in the past forty years made them. Its best Salve in the world for sores, ulcers, eczema, burns, boils, scalds, cuts, corns, sore eyes, sprains, swelling, bruises, cold sores. Has no equal for piles. 25c at all druggists.

A people's government is the people's business. If you do not attend to it, somebody else is going to attend to it for you, and the one who attempts to attend to it for you will be a usurper, usurping not only the prerogatives which attach to you as free men, but usurping the duties which have been devolved upon you by your citizenship. We must drive the corrupt lobbyists out of the temple of legislation at Frankfort.—O'Rear, at Columbia.

For bowel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all druggists.

If it is said that Kentucky is boss-ridden and machine-ruled and lobby-controlled, it is not to point out that Kentucky is an exception among the States of the Union. If it were otherwise, Kentucky would be an exception. Kentucky will be an exception this fall if she does not seriously undertake to rid herself of the incubus that binds her to a condition of demoralization, to a status dishonoring her abroad and throttling her progress and power at home.—O'Rear, at Elizabethtown.

Change of Heart.

Sevierville, Tenn.—"I never did believe in patent medicines," writes Mrs. Martha Hown, of this place, "until I took Cardui, and it cured me. For six months, I could not do anything. Now I do all my housework, and it don't tire me. Doctors failed, but Cardui saved my life." The benefit from taking Cardui is not confined to one part of the body. Cardui improves the whole womanly system. It helps headache, backache, falling feelings, and female weakness. Try it. It will help you. Price $1. D-18

Sarcasm Probably Wasted. One of the wittiest of Parisians, in a friend's box at the opera, was listening to "Thais," or rather trying to do so, for his hostess talked incessantly and dandened the music with her shrill voice. At the end of the opera she invited him to the next subscribers' night. "With pleasure," replied he; "I have never heard you in 'Faust'!"

Attacks School Principal.

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered in describable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c at all druggists.

SUGGESTIONS FOR HANDBOOK

Democrats Will Issue Campaign Thunder for Faithful.

In an editorial giving "some suggestions" for the Democratic campaign book which is to be issued, the Louisville Evening Post recently said, in part:

We notice in the Louisville Times, apropos of the progress of the State campaign, the following:

"Work is progressing rapidly on the compilation of the campaign book at Democratic State campaign headquarters, and it is expected by General Henry Lawrence, at the head of the Publicity Bureau, to have the volume off the press early next week."

In the first place, General Lawrence should not fail to insert in the book proper extracts from his excellent newspaper published at Cadiz, Ky. Only a few weeks ago General Lawrence took occasion to observe that the Democratic State committees were controlled by the whisky and beer interests and should be reorganized at once. Those committees have not yet been reorganized. Perhaps General Lawrence will tell us in the campaign book why not and when.

Again, the campaign book should not fail to contain all the editorials of Mr. Henry Watterson immediately before and after the recent State convention. Each page should bear the heading, "No Prohibitionist can be a Democrat," and Mr. Watterson's observations upon Mr. McCreary both before and after the State convention will be "helpful to the Democratic speakers and workers."

Certain observations made by the Times itself relative to our present Prison Board might prove of value, while the campaign book should by no means fail to contain the observations last year of the Lexington Herald relative to Congressman J. C. Cantrell, who is to lead Mr. McCreary's fight in Central Kentucky.

I affirm that the Legislature of Kentucky has for twenty years and more been a sore disappointment, in the main, to the public. There have been notable instances of high-minded and patriotic members in that body during that time. But the dominant influence has been pernicious; it has obstructed wholesome, remedial legislation; it has foiled the public demand; it has thwarted the public purpose; it has grown to be called a reproach to the State. If legislation aimed at the lobby is not sufficient, then let the people take into their hands, whence all power of government originates, the making of laws which their Legislature will not enact, and the repealing of laws which it does enact contrary to the public will and good.—O'Rear, at Princeton.

Are You a Woman?

Baltimore, Md.—Mrs. W. H. Ison, at 1419 East Madison street writes, "For several years, I suffered, off and on, from womanly troubles, until finally I was taken down and could do nothing. The pains I experienced, I shall never forget. I lost weight until I was only skin and bones. I believe I would be in my grave if I had not tried Cardui." Are you like Mrs. Ison weak and discouraged, because of some painful ailment? Cardui will help you. Try it today. Any druggist will be glad to sell you a bottle. D-16

"I was just telling my friend here, Molly, that it was storming on the day of our marriage." "Surely not, Hiram! The weather was perfectly lovely!" "Well, well! I don't know how I got so mixed up about it; probably because it's been storming ever since!" —Atlanta Constitution.

A Fish Story.

"There are as good fish in the sea as were ever taken out of it," remarked Small to Young, who had been refused by Moneybag's daughter. "Yes, I know. But they are not goldfish."

SPENDTHRIFT ISABELLA.

A Sight That Checked Her Royal Extravagance For Awhile.

We are accustomed to think that the day is long past when a sovereign could oppress and offend a whole kingdom by personal extravagance. But the late Isabella of Spain belonged in spirit to the sixteenth century. An incident of her reckless career—which ended in the loss of the throne—is noted in Munsey's Magazine.

She spent money, pouring it out like water, at a time when the treasury was nearly bankrupt and when the proverb "Poor as a Spaniard" was far too true. All her best advisers urged her to practice economy. Very few of them succeeded, and these only for a short time.

A certain chamberlain of hers once hit upon a plan to make her realize how enormous were the sums that she was spending. Passing through the hall of the palace, she was surprised to see a vast heap of silver pieces, resembling the contents of a great bin of wheat, but piled up in the middle of the floor. The queen summoned her chamberlain.

"What is the meaning of all this money?" she demanded of him.

"Oh," he replied, with a low bow, "this is merely the amount which I have brought out to pay the bill of your majesty's glove-maker."

The queen colored and then laughed, and for several months she was less extravagant in her expenditures for clothes.

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists. m

Chinese Floating Hotel.

A floating hotel is to be established in China. The vessel will have three decks, the lower being arranged for dining, billiard, smoking and card rooms. The main deck will contain a drawing room and 24 bedrooms, each with a full-sized bath and dressing room, while the upperdeck, or spar deck, has been arranged as a promenade.

Spit, Quit, Fit.

Hines, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Eula Mae Bradley says: "I used to spit up all I eat. I was tired and sleepy all the time. My head ached, and I could hardly drag around. Since taking Cardui, this has entirely quit, and now I feel quite fit. Mrs. Bradley suffered from nervous indigestion. Cardui builds up the nervous system, and strengthens the womanly constitution. That's why Cardui helped Mrs. Bradley and why it will help you. Try it. D-17

Bismarck is credited with drinking one gallon of French brandy in a one-night session. Bismarck claimed that so long as alcohol wasted its effects upon the brain in keeping up sprightly thought and conversation it had little effect on the rest of the system.

Cardui Worked Wonders.

McMinnville, Tenn.—Mrs. Ocie Jett, of this place, says: "I don't believe I would be living to-day, if it hadn't been for Cardui. After treating me twenty seven days, my doctor advised an operation, but I would not consent. Instead, I took Cardui, and now I am doing my work—even the washing. Cardui worked wonders in my case. I am in better health than for five years." Cardui is a strengthening tonic for women. It relieves pain, tones up the nerves, builds strength. You need Cardui. Try it. D-20.

Woman's Opportunity.

Good sense is the greatest preservative of health. Never before have women had such a chance in the world as to-day and in this country. But the chance will avail them nothing unless they have the health to seize it and the vigor to hold it.—Exchange.

REPUBLICAN TICKET

For Governor,
EDWARD C. O'REAR,
of Mt. Sterling.

For Lieutenant Governor,
L. L. BRISTOW,

For Attorney General,
THOS. B. MCGREGOR,
of Benton.

For Auditor,
LEONARD W. BETHERUM,

For Treasurer,
HERMAN F. MONROE,
of Louisville.

For Secretary of State,
A. J. OLIVER,

For Commissioner of Agriculture,
D. W. CLARK, of Barboursville.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction,
T. W. VINSON,
of Princeton.

For Clerk Court of Appeals,
C. S. WILSON, of Williamsburg.

For Representative Ohio County,
J. A. LEACH,
of Beaver Dam.

For Senator,
C. HOLMAN,
of Morgantown.

The Ohio county voters who desire to have our representative in the lower house taken away from us and the county joined on to Butler and Edmonson to make a legislative district should vote the Democratic ticket this fall.

If the election could be carried on paper the writer on the doings of politicians for the Louisville Times would have had the State election carried long ago. Not long ago he even claimed that this senatorial district was likely to elect a Democrat this fall. So our people may know by this just how unreliable the rest of his predictions may be.

The Democratic party in Ohio county ought not to have nominated a candidate for representative this year. For if they are standing by their party record at Frankford, they ought to acknowledge that we have no right to a Representative in the lower House for under their gerrymander, Butler and Edmonson counties should furnish the representative.

The Republicans of Kentucky have not sufficient campaign funds to provide five thousand dollars free dinners and barbecues in order to draw a crowd, but their candidate for governor is carrying the true gospel home to the voters in all parts of the State and furnishing food for their minds, for at least many days after the effects of the free dinner have passed away.

Mr. Vanzant, the Democratic Campaign chairman is said to be worth more than a million dollars. Another member of the campaign committee, Mr. Mayo, is said to be worth at least twenty millions of dollars. He operates and controls more coal mines possibly than any one man in the United States. Of course a set of State officers elected by this combination would have a great deal of sympathy for the coal miners and the poor laborer.

Before Judge O'Rear became a candidate for governor, the Democratic newspapers and members of the bar all over the State pronounced him one of the greatest and purest justices the State has ever produced. Now that he has become a candidate for governor and has been nominated by the Republican party many of these same papers are denouncing him as dishonest and insincere. Why this change? Has the Judge changed, or is it because he is standing in the way of the political aspirations of some one?

Organized labor will not forget that the Democratic State Convention which met for the sole purpose of declaring a set of principles, ignored a committee from Louisville lodged requesting a plank condemning Convict Contract Labor. Since then the same representative of organized labor has attempted to get an explanation from the Democratic nominees on this subject but have failed and last week they passed resolutions condemning the Democratic party of the state for its failure to respond to their demand. The Republican platform contains a plank condemning Convict Contract Labor and it was placed there without any request from organized labor whatever. It ought not to be difficult for the laboring people to determine where to cast their votes November 7th.

THE McCULLOUGH LETTER.

The Owensboro Messenger, edited by Mr. Urey Woodson, thought it had discovered a great "marcs nest," Tuesday when it got hold of a letter written by Mr. McCulloch, who is Chairman of the Republican Finance Committee for the First and Second Congressional Districts, soliciting funds for the Republican campaign. Mr. McCulloch is a member of the State Central Committee, elected by the Second Congressional District, and has been such member for a great many years. He has also been Chairman of the Finance Committee a number of times. He was not selected for this position by Judge O'Rear. Mr. McCulloch is a strong Republican and has never yet failed to support his ticket, although he was against Judge O'Rear for the nomination. The Messenger pretends to discover in this fact evidence that Judge O'Rear has gone over to the liquor forces. In his speech at Paducah Tuesday night Judge O'Rear publicly instructed Mr. McCulloch not to accept one dollar for campaign purposes from the distillers or any distiller; and also challenged the Democratic Campaign Committee to show their books ten days before the election, and to have the manager for each party, under oath, disclose every dollar paid in for campaign purposes and from what source it came. The efforts to show that Judge O'Rear is not sincere on the county unit question are ridiculous in the extreme and show to what extremities his opponents are compelled to go to catch a straw for evidence. With the whiskey people the opponents of Judge O'Rear have been enlarging upon his intense hatred of them because of his well known temperance and county unit views as expressed on every occasion. Now, because, when both parties have taken practically the same stand on the county unit question, some distiller is supporting him, these same people frantically rush to the temperance people to try to drive them away from him on that account. The people of Kentucky know where Judge O'Rear stands and they will not be driven from him by any such tactics.

OUR INDUSTRIAL EDITION.

With this week's issue of The Republican we take pleasure in presenting to our regular subscribers a copy of our Big Industrial Edition of Ohio county. True it appears once week after it is dated to appear, which delay was attributable to some of the paper miscarrying, as was explained in our last week's edition.

We have no apology to make for this Industrial edition for it contains more pages than was ever contained in any edition of the kind that we know of in Kentucky, outside of editions published in Louisville and Lexington.

Of course the edition might have been a better one, and there are some mistakes in it, but when it is taken into consideration that this big edition with one hundred and ninety engravings, one hundred and seventy articles contains thirty pages, one hundred and fifty columns, twelve thousand lines, about seventy-two thousand words and nearly three hundred and seventy-five thousand separate letters, and that all of the type-setting, make-up, make-ready, press work, folding, etc., was done in our own office, we feel justified in being proud of the edition.

That the thousands of copies of this Big Edition that are being sent broadcast throughout the country will redound to the benefit of Hartford and every town in Ohio county we have not the slightest doubt, and if the enquiries which will naturally come to us from outsiders who see this edition are followed up, Ohio county will obtain new industries and have more people before the year 1912 closes.

To those who so ably assisted us by their interest and liberality we extend our heartiest thanks. They are the live wires who made this edition possible, and in return we have given them a far better paper than we promised, for at first we expected a sixteen page paper instead of one of thirty pages, which required twenty-eight hundred pounds—nearly one and one-half tons—of fine book paper to print.

Well, here's success to the Big Edition, and here's success and prosperity to every one of the progressive men and women who are represented in this, the "Biggest" enterprise of the kind that was ever attempted in Western Kentucky, and to quote old Rip Van Winkle, "May we all live long and prosper."

IMPORTANT TO OHIO COUNTY VOTERS.

The legislature which will be elected on the 7th day of November will be called upon to apportion the State of Kentucky into new judicial and legislative districts. As at present districted it is known by all men that it is most unjust and in many cases amounts to absolute disfranchisement to the people of certain sections of the State. The state has not been redistricted for many years, that is a redistricting that would stand the test of the courts. It is true that under the last administration of governor Beckham the Democratic legislature did go through the form of redistricting the State, but when the bill was passed it was more unjust, if possible, an out of conformity to the constitution to such an extent that the courts set it aside and we are still under the old apportionment. It will be remembered, especially by Ohio County people that unjust and unreasonable piece of legislation which was enacted by the Democrats' disfranchised us, took away from us our representative in the lower House and placed us in a district comprised of Ohio, Butler and Edmonson counties, notwithstanding the fact that Daviess county was left with two representatives and little Meade county with her nine thousand population was left with a representative. Under the present law it requires six citizens in the Mountain counties to equal one in Meade, MeLean or Hancock. This condition can not exist always. People will not suffer themselves to be cheated out of an equal voice in the law making body of the State and in such an outrageous manner. How can a citizen of Ohio county vote to place in power and authority a party which has shown itself willing to disfranchise every citizen of the county in an effort to still further entrench itself in power at the State capital? This is not a political question as far as we are concerned. It appeals to all citizens alike who are in favor of fair play and honest government. The constitution of the State provides that not more than two counties shall be added together to form a legislative district and yet in plain violation of the constitution they vote to place Ohio, Butler and Edmonson in one district under the law which was set aside by the court and under the present law one legislative district in the State contains as many as seven counties. The voters of Ohio county will remember the terrible piece of legislation which was voted to be perpetuated on them when they go to the polls on the 7th day of November.

Daviess County Fair, Owensboro October 4th-7th, 1911.

For this occasion the L. & N. will sell round trip excursion tickets at $1.50, dates of sale October 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th. Return limit October 9th. H. E. MISCHKE, Agt.

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER

Gives its Influence to Judge O'Rear.

Declares it Cannot and Will Not Support McCreary and His "Platform."

The Breathitt County News, an independent newspaper, has declared its purpose to support Judge O'Rear and the platform upon which he stands and gives excellent reasons why it cannot accept Senator McCreary in his old age. The News declares itself as follows:

OUR CHOICE.

The News can not be said to be strictly a political organ, but in the State campaign that is now on in Kentucky between Judge O'Rear on the one hand and Senator McCreary on the other, it is unreservedly for O'Rear. From time to time its position on the various phases of the campaign will be stated and the issue as brought forth by the platforms of the two parties will be discussed.

Why are we for O'Rear and why against McCreary? For answer we turn to the public and private records of the two men and to the platforms upon which they stand in this campaign.

This promises to be the most interesting and momentous campaign in the history of Kentucky politics and the results of the campaign will more directly concern our people than that of any other in our history. Judge O'Rear is personally an aggressive, wide-awake, popular man of high character and high purpose, and a man whose public and private career is open as a book. He is a man that is always found advocating the rights of his people; a man that has the courage and frankness and honesty to take a stand and fight for his people and their rights and the voters of Kentucky know him to be such. When ever he made up his mind to yield to the solicitation of his many friends to enter the campaign for the nomination for Governor he did so without reservation, and he gave the people to understand just where he stood and what might be expected of him. He set forth a platform or declaration of principles and he fought for them in various sections of the State, and he won. The masses of his party were for him and they spoke in no uncertain tones.

Judge O'Rear stands for the cause of temperance and for its promotion, and to this end he believes that we should have a uniform system or method of determining and permitting the people of the State to determine as to whether or not intoxicating liquors shall be sold in their midst and he believes that the county should be the governing unit. This was the position he took in advance of the platform adopted by his party, and this his party endorsed. He stands for equal and just taxation; for equal and just representation in the Kentucky Legislature and in Congress; for honesty and fairness in elections; for abolition and prevention and punishment of the legislative lobby; for laws to promote and protect the interest of labor and laborers, and at the same time protect and invite capital into our State. In other words, he stands upon a progressive platform that speaks in thunder tones for the present and coming generations in Kentucky. He speaks for them and takes his position and the people know where to find him.

On the other hand, Mr. McCreary is noted for his indecision, his lack of initiative and his positive failure and refusal to take any stand on any of the issues in Kentucky until after his nomination and until after the leaders of his party had spoken. In other words, he is willing to run on any platform that his associates may choose, just in order to be Governor, and raised not his voice as to what it should contain. There is another objection to the election of Senator McCreary and a strong reason why Judge O'Rear should be elected. It must be remembered that Senator McCreary is now more than seventy-three years of age, and that Judge O'Rear is only fifty; that the one has passed beyond that age at which he can be of great service of his country, and the other just reaching maturity in years and experience. Mr. McCreary was elected Governor of Kentucky more than thirty-six years ago, and has since that time held numerous offices and has been remembered by his people. But there is a limit, a bound beyond which the frailties and failures of human-kind outweigh and outnumber the powers and possibilities of action. Therefore, we cannot believe that the voters of Kentucky can have any doubt as to their duty, any doubt as to the choice of issues, and last but not least any doubt as to the man and candidate best able to serve the people of Kentucky in this progressive and exacting age.

CITIZEN WRITES ABOUT CITY COUNCIL ELECTION

Suggests for Welfare of Hartford That "Citizens Ticket" be Elected.

Hartford, Ky., Sept. 26, 1911.

Editor Hartford Republican,
Dear Sir:--Noting in your editorial of last week, that a new city council is to be elected this coming November; being a citizen and taxpayer of Hartford and interested in her welfare, I am going to beg leave of you to spare me a few lines in your paper, that I may say a few words concerning the election of a city council.

In all cities of any size and importance the citizens are, I am proud to say laying aside party prejudice and political strife and uniting on a "Citizens ticket," composed of the foremost and best men of the respective city, regardless of party affiliation. I am glad to see this coming to pass. I am glad to see the people of a city have their city more to heart than their political party. It means progress and growth to the city.

Now why can't we citizens of the good old town of Hartford follow the examples of our sister cities and unite on one good ticket composed of the representative men of our good town, regardless of politics or religion? Why can't we get out a citizens ticket and save a political turmoil? Why can't we all unite for the sake of our town and community? I am sure that there is not a man, woman or child within the incorporate limits but what wants to see the town grow and come to the front as one of the leading cities of Western Kentucky.

Now then, Friends and Neighbors, let us not be Democrats or Republican or Socialists or of any other political faith when it comes to selecting a council, but let us be citizens and loyal adherents of Hartford and let us nominate and elect a good clean "Citizens Ticket" composed of men that we know will well represent us, whether they be Democrats, Republicans, or anything else.

Assuring you of my hearty support of just such a ticket and with a final plea that we all get together and work shoulder to shoulder for the general welfare of the city that we all love so well and that we want to see progress, I beg to remain,

Sincerely Yours,
A CITIZEN AND TAX-PAYER.

O'REAR'S LIFE IS INTERESTING

Works Up From Bottom to Position of Success.

Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, the Republican candidate for Governor, is forty-eight years old, or a quarter of a century (25 years) younger than his Democratic opponent, Mr. McCreary, who is seventy-three.

The main points in Judge O'Rear's life are as follows: He was born on February 2, 1863; lived on a farm in early boyhood, then moved to Mt. Sterling, Ky.; quit school when twelve years old to go to work; was "news butcher" on a train for a while, then became a printer's "devil"; worked as a printer about four years; studied law meanwhile and was admitted to bar when nineteen years old by special act of Legislature; married Miss Virginia Hazelrigg, of West Liberty, Ky., when twenty years old; was attorney for coal and development companies for three years; was elected County Judge of Montgomery County in 1894; elected to the Court of Appeals in 1900; re-elected to Court of Appeals in 1909 without opposition from either party; nominated for Governor by Republican party in 1911; has five children living; lives on a farm near Frankfort.

There are 80,000 tobacco raisers in Kentucky. They raise possibly 400,000,000 pounds of tobacco. The difference between 6 cents and 12 cents a pound is $24,000,000 a year to the farmers of Kentucky. If I am elected Governor of Kentucky and you have any 12-cent tobacco to sell, you won't have to take 6 cents for it if you don't want to. I do not mean to say that any lawless act will be resorted to. I would rather never see another leaf of tobacco raised in Kentucky than for a lawless act to deprive a citizen of his life or property or his liberty. (Applause.) I do not mean to say that you shall compel your neighbor to sign any pooling contract in any kind of a society. It should not, it shall not be done. They will be free men in this matter. What I mean to say is that there is power enough in the law, and I know that I know how to use it so that the American Tobacco Company will not come here and break up the farmers' pools and injure them financially. O'Rear, at Glasgow.

It is illogical and futile to confuse our local policies by the interjection of National issues when the vote in this State this year can have but the slightest bearing upon the former. It is a reflection on the intelligence of the voter, assuming that he may be carried away from an independent decision of the local issues, by appeals to his fidelity to National issues. O'Rear, at Hopkinsville.

 By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.
